FUTURE TENSES

Tenses referring to future: Future Simple (will-future), be going to, Future Continuous, Present Simple, Present Continuous

Future Simple

We use the Future Simple:

- to express a future intention made at the moment of speaking

I'll give you my number.
I'll call you tomorrow.
I'll pay you back.

- to describe a prediction or something we think will happen in the future

I'm sure your teacher will be angry with you.
He won't stay long.
Tom will pass the exam easily.

FUTURE TENSES

Formation rules:

Affirmative: will and the bare infinitive

Laura will help you.
I will open ('ll open) the window.
I will call you back.

Negative: will not / won't and the bare infinitive

Laura will not (won't) help you.
I will not (won't) open the window.
I will not (won't) call you back.

Interrogative: will and the bare infinitive

Will she help you?
Will you open the window?
Will you call me back?

FUTURE TENSES

be going to

We use the be going to form to talk about:

- plans and intentions which may still change

We are going to spend our holiday in Austria.

He isn't going to be an accountant.

Are you going to take up this course?

- a prediction based on something we can see or know about

Paula does not know anything. She is going to fail the exam.

Look at those clouds. It's going to rain.

George looks pale. He is going to be sick.

Formation rule: am/are/is + *going to + the bare infinitive

FUTURE TENSES

Future Continuous

We use the Future Continuous:

- to talk about activities which will be in progress at a certain time in the future

This time tomorrow they will be celebrating Peter's birthday.

Tomorrow I will be sleeping all day.

He will be waiting for you when you arrive.

- to talk about planned routines and regular events

She will be holding a meeting.

This time next week we will be staying in this beautiful hotel.

FUTURE TENSES

Formation rule: will be + V-ing

Laura will be reading all day.

My friends will be waiting for me.

Laura will not be (won't be) reading all day.

My friends will not be (won't be) waiting for me.

Will Laura be reading all day?

Will my friends be waiting for me?

PRESENT SIMPLE AND PRESENT CONTINUOUS

We use the Present Simple when we talk about timetables, programmes etc. (for public transport, cinemas etc.)

My train leaves at 11.30, so I need to be at the station by 11.15.

What time does the film begin this evening?

We can use the form of the Present Continuous to refer to events which are arranged for the future. (e.g. We are taking our finals tomorrow morning.)

We are playing tennis tomorrow at five.

I am seeing my dentist on Friday morning.

Eric and Julie are going to the theatre this evening.

PRESENT SIMPLE AND PRESENT CONTINUOUS

Compare:

Present Continuous: I'm doing something (tomorrow) = I have already decided and arranged to do it

A: What are you doing on Monday morning?

B: I'm seeing my dentist. (I have an appointment)

'be going to': I'm going to do something = I have already decided to do it; I intend to do it (but perhaps not arranged to do it)

A: Are you going to watch the late film on TV tonight?

B: No, I'm going to have an early night.

BUT: Do NOT use will to talk about what you have already decided or arranged to do!

THANK YOU FOR YOUR ATTENTION!
