WRITING

Write a dialogue on each of the following topics. Use the phrases discussed in this lesson.

- You would like to buy a new phone / dress, but you are not sure, which one to choose. Ask your friend for advice.

Me: Hi Alex, can you give me some advice? I'm thinking about buying a new smartphone, but I'm really not sure which one to choose.

Alex: Sure! What do you think you need the most? Are you looking for high performance or a great camera?

Me: Well, I need a fast processor for development and coding tools, but battery life is also essential. What would you do in my situation?

Alex: If I were you, I'd go for the latest model with a larger battery and more RAM. Have you thought about buying the Pro version?

Me: That might be an idea, but it's quite expensive. Do you think it's worth the price?

Alex: In my opinion, it is definitely worth the investment if you use it for work every day. You could also wait for the Black Friday discounts to save some money.

Me: That sounds good! Thanks a lot for your advice, Alex.

• You and your friend would like to go to the cinema, but choosing the right film doesn't seem to be easy. Make several suggestions in your conversation.

Me: Hey Alex, do you fancy going to the cinema tonight?

Alex: Yeah, that's a great idea! I'd love to. What would you like to watch?

Me: Why don't we go and see that new action blockbuster? It has great reviews.

Alex: I'm not so sure. To be honest, I'm not keen on action movies today. I had a long day and I'd rather watch something relaxing.

Me: I see what you mean. How about watching the new science fiction film instead?

Alex: Mm, I'm afraid I don't fancy that either. What about that new Italian comedy everyone is talking about?

Me: That's a possibility. Let's take a look at the trailer online... Actually, it looks really funny! What do you think?

Alex: In my opinion, that would be the perfect choice for tonight.

Me: Absolutely, let's do it! I'll book the tickets online right now.
