07. Listening 1

Shopping_7.1

Listen to Audio 1. Mark each sentence as T (true) or F (false).

1. Jane is a shopaholic but she doesn't know. _____
2. She didn't use to like shopping when she was younger. _____
3. Her husband is a shopaholic too. _____
4. She doesn't usually buy presents for other people. _____
5. Alice likes shopping. _____
6. She prefers online shopping. _____
7. She thinks that in traditional shops it's easier to find what you're looking for. _____
8. Benedicta doesn't like shopping with her girlfriends. _____
9. She likes crowded shops. _____
10. She likes being in specific bookshops. _____

07. Listening 1

Shopping_7.2

Listen to Audio 1. Match each given word/phrase 1-10 from the magazine article with a definition A-J.

1. Shopaholic	A liking someone or something
2. Survey	B I don't like it
3. Self-confessed	C a piece of clothing that hangs down and doesn't have legs
4. Blouse	D having admitted to having a specific characteristic
5. Skirt	E a person who loves shopping very much and does it a lot
6. Persuade	F easily
7. Not my cup of tea	G a woman's piece of clothing similar to a shirt
8. Hands down	H convince
9. Till	I a series of questions to look into people's opinions
10. Fond	J a cash register

07. Listening 1 Keys

7.1	1F	2F	3T	4F	5F	6T	7F	8F	9F	10T
7.2	1E	2I	3D	4G	5C	6H	7B	8F	9J	10A

CLA-CLT
Centro Linguistico di Ateneo
Excellence in Linguistic Training

07. Listening 1 Script

Who is a Shopaholic? – Audioscript 1

Shopping is one of the most common activities worldwide, people everywhere like it.
But where is the line between "like in a reasonable way" and "like too much"? Here is what three people answered in our survey.

Jane, from Brighton
I've always loved shopping. I like buying… everything! I think I'm a self-confessed shopaholic… I probably got this trait from my mother. When I was a child, I used to go shopping with her and my grandmother, on Saturday afternoon, and it was the best time of the week! We spent hours walking from one shop to the next… Now I go shopping with my daughter, Tess, who likes it as much as I do. They say that women love shopping much more than men, but this is not true in our family: my husband loves going to the shops, he thinks it's a great way to spend his time and he buys a lot of things he doesn't need! I always buy unnecessary things too, and I also love buying gifts for friends!

Alice, from Manchester
Shopping? It's not exactly my idea of how to spend my free time… I mean, going out, walking to a shop, looking for things you may not find … Take clothes, for example, you may not find your size or the right colour, and then you go to another place and try on a new pair of shoes or a dress, a blouse, a skirt … and the shop assistant does her best to persuade you to buy, they're just doing their job, I know, but… no, it's not my cup of tea, definitely. Online shopping wins hands down, it makes you save time and you always find both the right size and colour!

07. Listening 1 Script

Benedicta, from Liverpool
When I go shopping with my girlfriends it's OK, I don't complain, as we do it only about once a week, but I don't think I'd like to do it on a regular basis, or more often. I can't see myself moving around the city with bags, spending money on things that, in most cases, I don't particularly need! Also, shops tend to be busy at the weekends, meaning that you must queue at the till! However, I do like browsing around second-hand bookshops, the atmosphere is fascinating, and I love the idea that people there are fond of books.

So, this is what three people think about shopping. And you? Are you a true shopaholic?
Call us and tell us what you think, the number is: 753.2269883!